

Bachelor of Science and Master's Degree in Couple and Family Therapy

University of Delaware and Jefferson School of Health Professions/ Thomas Jefferson University

Students who receive an undergraduate degree in Human Services from the University of Delaware and meet the necessary requirements are eligible for acceptance into the Master's degree in Couple and Family Therapy at Thomas Jefferson University (TJU).

Admission Requirements

Students who earn an overall GPA of at least 3.25 at the end of the fall semester of their junior year or following completion of 75 credits can apply for the master's program at TJU. Candidates must be in good standing at UD and pass a criminal background check and child abuse clearance.

Prerequisite Course Requirements

Students must earn a grade of "B" or higher in the following courses at UD to receive credit for the course at Jefferson School of Health Professions:

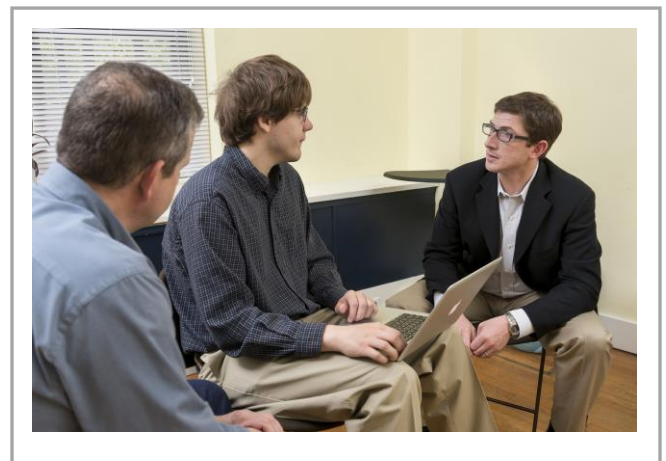

- General Psychology (PSYC 100)
- Abnormal Psychology (PSYC 334)
- Measurement and Statistics (PSYC 209)

Application Information

Students should submit their graduate application at the end of the spring semester of the student's junior year (at least 14 months prior to the term in which the student desires to enroll). This includes:

- A UniCAS application through Thomas Jefferson University which includes a resume, personal statement, transcript, TOEFL scores etc.
- 2 letters of recommendation (one must be from a UD representative).
- An in-person interview with the members of the Jefferson Couple and Family Therapy Admissions Committee.

Guaranteed admission is extended as long as there are spaces available in the entering class.

Thomas Jefferson University

TJU's master's in Couple and Family Therapy is a full-time, two-year program, offering two highly sought-after specialty tracks: sex therapy and family therapy. In addition to classwork, students receive 500 hours of direct clinical experience.

The program is located in Philadelphia, and accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Marriage and Family Therapy Education.

For more information, contact (215) 382-6680 ext. 3120 or visit the TJU webpage:
www.jefferson.edu/university/health_professions/departments/couple-family-therapy.

